Quantum Speak Out at Disability Mentoring Day

Bringing Awareness and Inspiration to the Community

With over 60 million people experiencing some type of disability in the United States today, disability ultimately impacts all of our lives, from our relatives to our peers to ourselves.

At Quantum Rehab®, we're dedicated to supporting the success of those with disabilities in all of life's aspects. Through Quantum Speak Out, a community outreach and disability awareness program, our goal is to help promote the importance of embracing diversity in the community at large, encouraging the success of all abilities.

Bringing Awareness and Inspiration to the Community

QUANTUM® Speak Out!

What We Offer...

Provided free of charge to the community, Quantum® Speak Out offers highly respected speakers and personalities with disabilities, sharing with your group their enlightening presentations of living successfully with challenges. Their messages are educational, engaging and, yes, inspiring. Most importantly, a Quantum Speak Out speaker will provide your group with the invaluable lesson that people with disabilities really are just people, after all – that the inclusion of all within society benefits everyone.

Where We Speak...

- Public and private school assemblies
- Colleges
- Civic groups
- Business associations
- Disability-related groups

Mark E. Smith – Quantum® Speaker

Born with cerebral palsy, Mark went on to obtain a master's degree, is a widely-published author and speaker, and is among the most recognized disability figures in the world. He serves as Pride Mobility's Consumer Research Manager and editor of wheelchairjunkie.com. Mark speaks to thousands each year, not only sharing his own remarkable story, but also addressing disability experience on universal levels that all can relate to.

Madonna Long – Quantum® Speaker

Paralyzed as the result of a school bus accident in 1981, Madonna went on to raise a family, serve as a national advocate for disability rights, and obtain a degree in homeland security. Currently, she works closely with Pride Mobility's Government Affairs Department as a consumer advocate and speaks on behalf of those with disabilities.

Bryan Anderson – Quantum® Speaker

A veteran of Iraq, Bryan was injured in 2005 when his military Humvee encountered an explosive device, resulting in the loss of both legs and one hand. Today, Bryan is the spokesperson for Quantum Rehab®, and is also active with various veterans organizations. With his story featured in print and television, Bryan is widely-recognized and speaks nationally, telling his story to groups of all ages and backgrounds.

Josh McDermott – Quantum® Speaker

At the age of 10, Josh was diagnosed with Muscular Dystrophy but has never allowed it to get in the way of his life. Josh is a national spokesperson for Pride Mobility and Quantum Rehab®, and is also a goodwill ambassador for the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Delivering his message of determination and triumph at events nationwide, Josh helps to promote self-esteem and confidence in everyone he meets.
